

and last but certainly not least—North's Alma Mater. The chair members were wearing their newly acquired robes for the occasion.

My Neighbors

"I asked if he had any other tangible assets."

VIVIAN Curran, commissioner of group control, announced that there will be an essay contest on "Why I Keep the Campus Clean." The winner will receive ten dollars as the prize and the four runners-up will receive a free annual. This and many other suggestions will be used in the future for keeping North's campus clean.

NORTH HIGH LIGHTS

North High Choir, under the direction of George Zavislan, presented a musical program at the meeting of the PTA, Tuesday, March 17. North's 80-member choir presented a program of seven songs, including the following: "O Bone Jesu," "Holy Lord God," "In Stilly Night," "My Heart Is Offered," "No Other Love," "Rain and the River," "Now Is the Hour."

THE FOURTH annual Roman Banquet was held March 11 in the North High cafeteria. With a procession led by Jim Laird the Latin I and II students entered the room dressed in their traditional Latin robes. Mike Lasky acted as High Priest for the event. There was much entertainment provided by the Latin students and visitors. Latin students put on different plays, while visitor Joyce Baird sang "Somewhere Over the Rainbow"; another group sang "The Day the Rains Came Down"; and another visitor, Sylvia Anderson, entertained the members with a ballet dance. Ken Golphene was narrator for the event.
